Edwin Alvarez is an Advisor for CVS Health, serving on their Supplier Diversity team for the last 3 years. Within his role, one of his key responsibilities is working closely with the Merchandising Category Managers and Procurement Sourcing Analysts to identify not-for-resale sourcing needs across the enterprise, introduce diverse owned suppliers to those opportunities, and support each of those groups along that process. He has been with CVS Health for 6 years and works out of their corporate offices in Woonsocket, RI.

Edwin attended Johnson & Wales University (B.A. Marketing) and the University of Rhode Island (M.A. Business Administration) both in Rhode Island; where he resides with his wife and two daughters. He is fluent in Spanish and is an avid camper and snowboarder.
